

*The Center for the Study of Ethnicity and Race
at Columbia University
presents:*

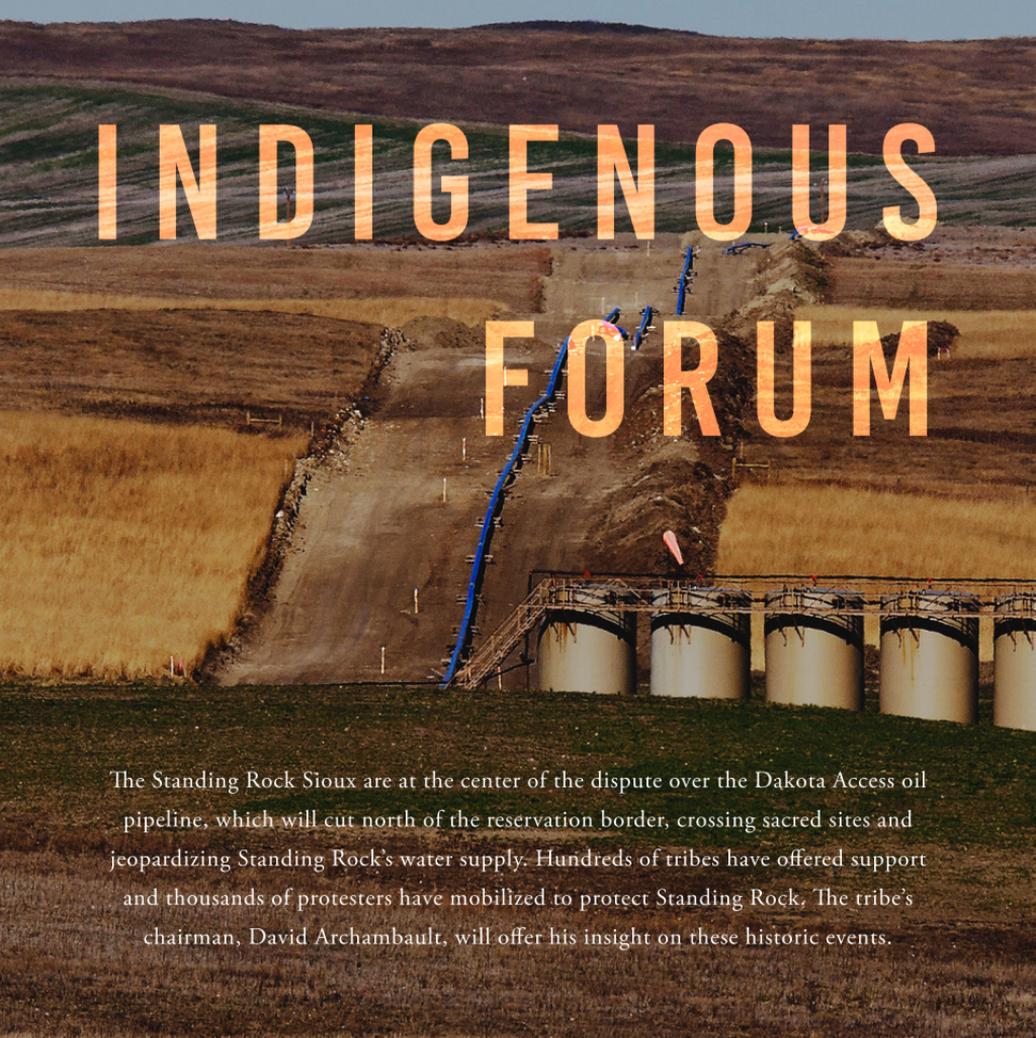

A conversation with

DAVID ARCHAMBAULT

Standing Rock Sioux
Chairman

OCTOBER 26TH
AT 12PM

International Affairs Building
420 West 118 Street,
Room 1512

INDIGENOUS FORUM

The Standing Rock Sioux are at the center of the dispute over the Dakota Access oil pipeline, which will cut north of the reservation border, crossing sacred sites and jeopardizing Standing Rock's water supply. Hundreds of tribes have offered support and thousands of protesters have mobilized to protect Standing Rock. The tribe's chairman, David Archambault, will offer his insight on these historic events.