- She was amazing! Very dedicated, there to answer any and all questions, prepared, could explain everything well, very nice, and enthusiastic about economics!

- Tatyana was very clear and easy to follow. She was also very nice, and I was comfortable raising my hand to answer her questions. Sometimes, though, I felt like she was relying heavily on notes (but this was probably because we only had a short amount of time to cover a large amount of material).

- Amazing.

- She was the best TA for labs of all the ones I went to (4 total)

- Tatyana is really enthusiastic about economics, especially micro. She's very thorough and clear when teaching and explaining the material. If she's even slightly unsure about a question someone has in class, she'll return an answer to the whole class via email after researching. Tatyana is dedicated, wants students to understand the information she's giving, and is cheerful!

- Very strong TA-- thorough, responsive to emails, explains things well, willing to stay after recitation to answer questions

- My teaching assistant was a little hard to follow at some points, as she sometimes went very quickly to describe terms. Also the use of different countries to explain terms sometimes made me confused.

- Tatyana was clear and direct and helped us understand course content well. She was very willing to answer all questions we had.

- I think Tatyana was a phenomenal teacher and TA, and I was very impressed by her knowledge of the subject and how helpful/fun she was in the discussion section. Really appreciate a good TA.

- Very good, open to questions and helpful.

- Tatyana was a great TA and always made sure to clarify things outside of discussion (by email, etc.) when she wasn't sure about something in discussion section. That's a level of effort and care that most TA's definitely do not show in general.

- she's great

- Tatyana is an amazing TA. She provides real-world examples, and explains everything clearly. I switched to her section after she subbed for mine - she's amazing!

- I shopped multiple lab sessions, and Tatyana was easily the most prepared of the teaching assistants. She struggled at times to answer questions that she was not anticipating but always followed up with emails after lab when she had taken the time to form an appropriate answer. The layout of her sessions was easy to follow, with outlines that made the content more accessible.
