

NYCTC7
New York University
March 17-19, 2020

Unless otherwise noted, events will take place in the NYU History Department, 53 Washington Square South, Room 701.

Monday, March 16

Arrivals and check-in at Washington Square Hotel, 103 Waverly Place

Tuesday, March 17

9:15-10:30 Work-in-progress 1: Sam Coggeshall (Comment: Harry Mace)

10:30-11:00 Coffee

11:00-12:15 Work-in-progress 2: Ellie Lowe (Comment: Alice Gorton)

12:15-1:15 Lunch (on your own)

1:15-3:00 Professional development: “Translating job application materials”

UK cover letter: Laura Carter
 US cover letter: Susan Pedersen

Diversity statement: Alma Igra

Teaching philosophy: Guy Ortolano
 Teaching proposal: Kieran Connell
 Mock teaching session: Niamh Gallagher

4:00-5:30 Tour the “Women March” exhibit on U.S. women’s collective action, 1820-2020
 Led by NYCTC alumna (& Historical Society postdoc), Anna Danziger Halperin

New York Historical Society
 170 Central Park West
 (25-30 minutes via the B/C train, leaving from West 4th)

6:30 Small group dinners

9:00-ish St. Patrick’s Day folk music outing (optional; details to follow from Lucy Delap &
 Niamh Gallagher)

Wednesday, March 18

9:30-10:45 Work-in-progress 3: Ivan Collister (Comment: Andrew Seaton)

11:00-1:00 Public event: “From dissertation to book”

Hannah Farber, Assistant Professor, Columbia University, and author of Underwriters of the United States, under contract from Omohundro/ UNC Press

Susan Ferber, Executive Editor, Oxford University Press

Peter Mandler, Academic Editor, “Modern British Histories,” Cambridge University Press

Sam Wetherell, Lecturer, York University, and author of Foundations: How the Built Environment Made Twentieth-Century Britain, forthcoming from Princeton UP

1:00-2:30 Lunch (catered)

3:00-4:15 Work-in-progress 4: Roslyn Dubler (Comment: George Severs)

7:30 Dinner at Susan Pedersen’s apartment, 200 West 108th St., #16A (about 40 minutes via the 1 train, leaving from Christopher Street)

Thursday, March 19

9:30-10:45 Work in progress 5: Taym Saleh (Comment: Barnaby Raine)

10:45-11:15 Coffee

11:15- Future planning