

Call for Papers

20th Annual Meeting

Augusta University in Augusta, Georgia, February 15-17, 2018

SAHMS is seeking paper submissions from students (including undergraduate, graduate, doctoral, and medical and health sciences professional students), professors, medical and legal professionals, and independent scholars with an academic interest in the history of science or medicine.

SAHMS welcomes papers that discuss the history of medicine and/or science. This is broadly construed to encompass all fields and subfields historical, literary, anthropological, philosophical, legal, and sociological related to the historical understanding of any aspect of science, medicine, health care, and the medical and health science professions, as well as closely related topics, including issues related to science or medicine involving race, disabilities, sustainability, environment, technology, and gender studies.

Deadline for paper abstracts, panel submissions, and student travel grants is: October 15th, 2017.

Additional information is available at the SAHMS website:
<http://www.sahms.net/call-for-papers.html>