Yu Kyung Koh

Columbia University
Department of Economics
New York, NY 10027

(773) 818-5894
yk2759@columbia.edu
https://econ.columbia.edu/econpeople/yu-kyung-koh/

Education

Ph.D. in Economics (Expected Completion: May 2023), Columbia University,

   Fields: Family Economics, Applied Microeconomics

M.A. in Economics, Columbia University, 2019

B.A. in Economics and in Public Policy Studies, University of Chicago, 2015

Works in Progress

Racial Sorting in the US Marriage Market: A Matching Model Approach

Gender Wage Gap and Consumption of Married Couples: Evidence from the Scanner Data (with So Yoon Ahn)

Working Paper

Mental Health Consequences of Working from Home During the Pandemic (with Jun Hyung Kim and Jinseong Park), submitted

Publication

"Evaluation of the Reggio Approach to Early Education" with P. Biroli, D. Del Boca, J. J. Heckman, L. P. Heckman, S. Kuperman, S. Moktan, C. D. Pronzato, A. L. Ziff, Research in Economics, 72(1): 1-32 (2018).

Teaching

TA for Intermediate Microeconomics (Dr. Wouter Vergote), Columbia University, Fall 2019

TA for Intermediate Microeconomics (Prof. Caterina Musatti), Columbia University, Spring 2020

Relevant Work Experience

Full-Time Research Assistant for Professor James Heckman, 2015-2017

Part-Time Research Assistant for Professor Steve J. Davis, 2013-2015

Fellowships & Awards

Kwanjeong Education Foundation Fellowship, 2017-2021.

Dean's Fellowship, Columbia University, 2017-2022

Young-Iob Chung Fellowship, Columbia University, 2019-2020.

First Place in the Econometrics Game, Becker Friedman Institute, University of Chicago, 2015.

Other Activities

HCEO-NES-CREC Virtual Summer School on Socioeconomic Inequality 2021 (scheduled)

Technical Skills

Computer Languages	R, Julia, Python, MATLAB, Perl
Software & Tools	Stata, LaTeX, Git, Excel